News & Notes

For our March 21st program, we are pleased to welcome guest narrator Fred Miller to our stage. Mr. Miller was commissioned by the Bucks County Historical Society to develop a program focusing on Bucks County residents famous for their work on Broadway and in Hollywood. The roster of Bucks connected composers is a virtual A-List of American Songwriters.

The March 21 concert celebrates the "Golden Age" of American Song.

Join us as we pay tribute to our region's direct involvement and contributions to this remarkable era of entertainment.

Mr. Miller has spent the last several decades in many musical fields including grand opera, musical comedy, classical piano and chamber music. He hails from Albuquerque and as a young boy he studied classical piano. In New York, he studied acting for two years with film legend Geraldine Page.

His current professional life revolves around American Popular Music. He has developed a series of more than 70 "Lectures in Song".
